What is a cold in the head? Medical authorities say it is due to uneven clothing of the body, rapid cooling when in a perspiration, etc. The important point is, that a cold in the head is an inflammation of the ifining membrane of the nose, which, when unchecked, is certain to produce a catarrhal condition—for catarrh is essentially a "cold," which nature is no longer able to "resolve" or throw off. Ely's Cream Balm has proved its superiority, and sufferers should resort to it before that common ailment becomes seated and ends in obstinate catarrh.

Chauncey M. Depew Delivers an Address
Before Their Convention.

Pittsburg, October 15th.—The International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held their annual open meeting in the Grand Opera House this afternoon. A number of letters were read from prominent gentlemen expressing regret at their inability to be present. Among them were Governor Campbell of Ohio, Governor Beaver of Pennsylvania, Geo. W. Childs of Philadelphia, President Roberts of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and other prominent railroad officials. After prayer by the Grand Chaplain of the society, Mayor Gourley welcomed the delegates to the city.

Chairman Adams then introduced Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, President of the New York Central Kailroad Company. The appearance of the distinguished gentleman was a signal for the wildest applause. When order had been restored Mr. Depew proceeded to celiver his address, which was listened to with great interest. Several times he was compelled to pause, owing to the deafening applause of his hearers.

Mr. Depew spoke highly of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and said that during to the deafening applause of his hearers.

Mr. Depew spoke highly of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and said that during to earry out novel theories of put in practice unusual and untried processes. The success of your body is due to its rigid adherence to right principles, upon which it was founded. No labor organization can permanentily succeed whose sole and only object is to increase wages and diminish hours. It lacks the essential bond of mutual sympathy and brotherly help in bearing or lightening each others' burden. The tendency of such an organization is inevitably and rapidly to collisions and failure. The fundamental idea of the Engineers' Brotherhood is: Frist—Charity in support of the sick or injured, and contributions to the family of the dead; second, education, which perfects the artisan in theory and practice of his trade and broadens him for a larger usefulness as a citizen; third, and contributions

Manistre (Mich.), October 16th.—R. G. Peters assigned to-day. This is the largest financial crash in the State for years, and comes from a source least exp.cted. Peters was the leading spirit in a score of big enterprises, and was spirit in a score of capital upon its own grounds. A committee which calls upon an employer or railroad officer must know its own business as well as he knows his. Otherwise, from angry contentions, because of ignorance, comes the exercise of brute force and violence, and fails to secure, in nine cases out of ten, that which could have been had by intelligent presentation. have been had by intelligent presentation.

Hundreds of committees of our employes have been to see me and I can safely say, after the full and free discussion which always took place, not one of them went out of my office exept to carry back a satis actory message to place, not one of them went out of my office except to carry back a satis actory message to their constituents.

The reason for these ready settlements was that the men understood their own business. They knew precisely what they wanted, and how much the company could afford to concede. But in the operations of what I may call the labor trust I have had different experiences.

Mr. Depew cited an instance of where fifteen men at one point of the line were ordered out by the Chief of their local Assembly, who was a shoemaker, and who took that action because he had had a row with a passenger conductor. On another occasion, a high official in the Order called on Mr. Depew, who soon discovered that he knew nothing of what he was talking about. The official confessed that he never had been in the railway service in his life. Such representatives of organized labor, said Mr. Depew, bring it into disrepute, both with the employers and the public.

A committee called upon me last fall with a series of complaints, all of which were quickly adjusted. They then made a demand in behalf of the Locomotive Engineers. I informed them of the Locomotive Engineers. I informed them that that body could speak for itself. They said their object was to break up the organization of Locomotive Engineers and gather into one organization every department of the railway service. If the management of the New York service. If the management of the New York Central would recognize engineers only through them, this result would be brought about, and upon a much lower basis than the Brotherhood could admit of, and if we did not do so they w. u. d strike and tie up the road.

Mr. Depew informed the committee that they might do their worst, but in the matter affecting the Brotherhood, he would recognize only that body. The threatened strike never came. Speaking of the great Central strike, Depew said years of successful trial of fair, frank and fruitful discussions with the employes-of the New York Central had led me to believe that a Inothing out a mass of smoldering ruins. Inside of fifteen minutes after the fire was discovered the building was in flames from end to end, and before thirty minutes elapsed the walls had fallen, with the exception of the northeast corner, and the whole was one seething furnace. To this was added the horror that many lives were involved. At first it was feared the loss of life was about thirty, but the night wore along and the number of missing and dead was reduced to seven or eight. When the flames began to sweep through the hotel, night clerk Jones set the automatic fire-alarm bell ringing, and before the rudely awakened guests could realize what was the matter flames and smoke rushed through the halls, cutting off the usual means of exit. Each room was provided with a common rope fire-escape, and by means of these many lives were saved.

At 3 o'clock—this afternoon the Superintendent of Public Works ordered the men engaged in exploring the ruins to stop work, as all the missing had been accounted for. THE DEAD. The following is the list of dead as far as known:

Andie Cummings, jumped from the fifth floor;
killed instantly.
William E. Harrop, of Elizabeth, N. J., lowered himself by a rope, and was half-way down from the fourth floor when the rope burned off, and he fell to the ground, and died at 4 a. M. Rose Schwarz, hotel domestic, jumped from the fifth floor, and died from the shock, which caused internal injuries, at S A. M.

An unknown woman, a hotel domestic, jumped from the fifth floor, and was instantly killed. THE MISSING.

The missing are Mary Doyle, servant; Robert T. Mills of New York, guest; A. J. Vanhouten of Jersey City, guest; George Wood of Dexter, N. Y., guest.

INCENDIARISM SUSPECTED. Mr. Perry, of the insurance firm of Bower & Perry, believes the place was set on fire. The fire started in a back room where a lot of grease was stored—at the Globe Hofel fire, too, Perry says he was quickly on the scene, and declares the fire started from grease in the kitchen in precisely the same manner. He believes both places were set on fire by some person or persons employed in the hotels. A vigorous investigation will be made.

R. E. Johnson of New York was around to day wearing one man's trousers, a second man's coat and a third man's battered and worn hat. The only things he wore of his own were his cork leg, shoes and hightshirt. Mr. Johnson had a narrow escape. He made his way through the halls to the staircase after an exciting experience. He carried his artificial leg under his arm, not having time to put it on.

In reply to questions as to how many times he had been absent from the land, he answered: "About two-thirds of the time, during which absence I was c'erking in a grocery store at Tulare, California, trying to earn money to pay the Government price for the land. I returned two or three times every month and remained several days on my claim."

The Secretary of the Interior holds that it is reasonable to assume that Stone was aware of the fact that he could not continue as clerk at Tulare and at the same time maintain a residence on his land, so far distant. The valuable improvements placed on the land by Stone do not carry out his plea of poverty. It is true that temporary absences do not constitute an abandonment of residence, nor destroy its continuity, but a bona fide residence and good faith must be clearly shown. The expenditure of large sums of money does not necessarily show good faith. Stone's case falls to show a bona fide residence, and the Commissioner's decision in rejecting the application is accordingly affirmed. Washington, October 16th. — The funeral services over the remains of the late Justice Miller took place this afternoon in the Supreme Court chamber. The remains were escorted by the Justices, the Pr. sident and members of the n rejecting the application is accordingly at the Justices, the Pr. sident and members of the Cabinet, and family, and a few intimate friends of the deceased, and taken to the Capitol, where the casket was placed in the center of the space in front of the bench upon which Justice Miller has sat so many years. The chair of the dead Justice was draped in black, and the flowers sent by friends and associates were placed along the railing near the bench. The President sent a handsome design of crossed swords, encircled by a wreath. Seats were reserved for the family, the Justices, the President and members of his Cabinet and the attorneys practicing before the Court.

The President and Mrs. Harrison sent a beautiful design consisting of two crossed swords in INTERSTATE COMMERCE. The Commissioners Decide That a Discrimation Against Chicago is Unjust. Washington, October 16th.—The Interstate Commerce Commission, in the case of the Board of Trade of Chicago vs. The Chicago and Alton Railroad and seven other companies, defendants, and the Armour Packing Company and eighteen other packing companies and the Board of Railroad Commissioners of Iowa, as intervenors, to-day decided in favor of the Board of Trade. The Commission orders defendant railways to make the same rates on live hogs as on packing hope products in the States nevs practis ing before the Court.

The President and Mrs. Harrison sent a beautiful design consisting of two crossed swords in white cosmos flowers, encircled by a wreath of lilies, valley roses and purple orchids. The card attached to them was inscribed: "With the deep and sincere sympathy of the President and Mrs. Harrison." Mrs. Harrison also sent a floral anchor. Resting against the Supreme Court bench immediately in front of the casket was a large book in immortelles, on a bank of ferns, inscribed, "The loving remembrance of the Lady Managers of the Garfield Hospital," of which the dead man was a warm friend and patron. There were also floral tributes from the law school of the National University, of which Justice Miller for many years has been Chancellor, from Secretary Noble, Chief Justice Fuller and a number of other friends.

The President was accompanied by Mrs. Harrison and by Secretary and Mrs. Blaine, Secretary and Mrs. Wildom, Secretary Tracy and Secretary and Mrs. Noble, Attorney-General and Mrs. Miller, Secretary and Mrs. Rusk, and Private Secretary Halford. The others in the Court-room were ex-Attorney-General Garland, Senators Manderson and Paddock, Solicitor General Taft, Assistant Attorney-General Maury, Chief Justice Bermudez, of Louisiana, and Judge Sidney Dillon.

A few minutes after the arrival of the President the funeral cortege arrived at the Capitol from the residence of the late Justice. For similar reasons the same party became the radical advocate for free and unlimited coinage of silver, notwithstanding the fact that in its previous campaigns and conventions it had declared unequivocally against silver.

It was unnecessary for the Republican Convention to extend its too lengthy platform by announcement of the friendship of that party for the secret ballot, since it is a matter of history that championship of a free secret ballot system and the perfect protection of the voter in the untrammeled exercise of the elective franchise, has been and is one of the cardinal principles of the party, and since it has not at eradicated from the system. The Lick gift, by its terms, clearly indicates the intention of the donor to have been the erection of a monument of the sculptor's art, not a pile which should be the result of the decorator's ingenuity, the architect's skill or the founder's copying. It was intended that California's historical monument should be mainly statuary, and very little indebted to architecture. Had the Trustees awarded such a work to other than a designer and creator of statuary it would have violated the spirit of the gift and have stricken originality out of the scheme.

THE Ohio Democrats a few weeks ago were confident in their ability to elect fifteen Congressmen. Their claim is now reduced to twelve. They even express doubts about defeating Mr. McKinley, though they have gerrymandered his district until it shape resembles a boot with the sole til it shape resembles a boot with t ripped off from heel to toe, and hanging Receiver of the Superior Court of Sacrament from the point of the boot by a mere thread. Evidently the gerrymander is not producing the results anticipated.

While in San Quentin Shinn and Thorne became good friends. Late in the afternoon of December 1, 1887, Shinn, who was a prison trusty, was driving a team out of the vard. Over the wagon was a tarpauling under which Thorne hid. Shinn drove out of the gate toward the old ferry-landing, and, when clear of the inclosure, the two men fled. A heavy rain-storm and the darkness aided the escapes. A day or so later a row-boat which belonged at San Quentin was found across the bay on the Contra Costa shore, showing which way the escapes had undoubtedly fled. For nearly two years after their escape the officers could find no trace of them. J. B. Hume, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s chief detective, was constantly on the look-out for them, and about a year ago he commenced to find what he thought to be evidence of their handiwork in three or four stage robberies. Three weeks ago he went to Waradoes, and that he would probably bag his self that Dorsey and Shinn first made their way to Chicago, where they remained for barn and carriage-house; also, gas and some time, and then returned to this State, where they committed numerous robberies, He believes they spent last winter in a cabin on the banks of the American river, just outside the limits of this city, and committed several minor offenses here. EMBROIDERY

This invention consists of a machine with three needles, one for zephyr work, one for yarn embroidery, and one for working in rags on burlap. The article to be embroidered is tacked on an ordinary frame, and the needle worked to and fro. The embroidery is then clipped with scissors on the reverse side, leaving the design in closely tufted raised work.

Beautiful work can be done on plush with zephyrs. Rugs and door mats can be made with yarn or rags on burlap. In fact this machine will make a great variety of fancy articles, and at the same time work up the various odds and ends in worsteds, rags, etc., that accumulate about the house. DILLON AND O'BRIEN.

They Arrive in Paris, Preparatory Sailing for America.

Paris, October 16th.—O'Brien and Dillon ary rived here this morning. In an interview today Dillon said after the yacht on which he and O'Brien escaped had been out two days the supply of illuminating oil ran out, and in consequence it was impossible to light the yacht's lights. This made it dangerous sailing in such a crowded water-way as the Channel, and several times they narrowly escaped being run down by passing vessels. O'Brien's sole object in refusing to face his accusers to the end in Tipperary was to keep his engagement to speak in aid of the Irish cause in America. He was confident his mission to that country would meet with success. The National party was in perfect accord, and Ireland had implicit confidence in Parnell. The death of Gladstone or the bankruptey of the National League were the sole hopes of the Tories in their fight against Parliamentary agitation for Irish home rule. Dillon and O'Brien will remain in Paris eight days, when they will take passage for New Sailing for America.

Dillon said he and O'Brien will remain in America four months and then return to Eugland and surrender themselves to the police. He laughingly added that they had been prisoners so often that a few months more or less Anti-Jewish Sentiments. St. Petersburg, October 16th.—Prince Mest-nersky, in the Grashdanin, reproaches the chersky, in the Grashdanin, reproaches the Novoe Vremya for attempting to create Chinese ill-feeling, which, he says, will be a terrible thing for Russia. The Prince urges his countrymen to be guided by two principles—first, the adoption of a policy that will pacify China and avoid proyeling her pational revence, and and avoid provoking her national revenge, and second, the cultivation of an everlasting hatred of the Jews to prevent them from penetrating ssian life and attaining their principal aim, e destruction of the orthodox democracy of The Story Ridiculous.

The Story Ridiculous.

Paris, October 16th.—The Journal des Debats, referring to the statement published by the Italian newspaper Popolo Romano that negotiations between Italy and England regarding the delimitation of the Red Sea territory had been broken off by the protests of France to Lord Salisbury against the Italian occupation of Kassala, says it is useless to contradict such a ridiculous story. Italy knows, the Journal says, that France regards with satisfaction the civilizing explorations of Italy, and has no interest to serve by opposing the cession of Kassala to that power.
